Gift Certificates

You can purchase a Gift Certificate in a fixed amount or variable amount used for gifting to a friend an entire registration for a Meru course.

On the store website, click on the words Gift Certificate on the left-hand sidebar. Once you are on the Gift Certificate page, click Meru University Gift Certificates. On the next page, enter the amount of money (Price) of your gift, and click the Add to Cart button.

Once you have completed payment for your order, the Receipt Order Summary page will display the Gift Certificate Number.

Click on the Gift Certificate Variable Price link which will display your Certificate Number. You can then copy and paste this Gift Certificate Number into an email to your friend. You can also click on the Print button for a paper copy.

Once your friend has received the gift certificate number, he or she simply logs in to the store and orders the course as you normally would. At the payment screen, your friend would select the Gift Certificate as payment type and put in the Gift Certificate Number and click Pay with Gift Certificate. (See slide 15).

Once logged in, click on the "Meru University" tab to find the course if it is not on the main page of the store.

Part 2: Adobe Connect

Before accessing Adobe Connect, adjust your computer audio settings. First, make sure your USB headset is plugged in to your computer. Click on your "Start" menu, usually the first icon on the tool bar located in most cases at the bottom of the screen. Follow this path: Start > Control Panel > Sound >

Use the first two tabs. The “Playback” tab controls your speakers and the “Recording” tab controls your microphone choices. Select USB device (not shown). Do not select “Speakers” or “Built-in Microphone.” If you do, you will not be able to speak without an echo.

Use the lower two tabs. After selecting the device, click “Set Default” to make your choice permanent. Then click the “Properties” tab to check the sound level. Adjust if necessary, using the volume control (not shown).

The Power of Permaculture for Personal and Planetary Change

A Four-Week Meru University Interactive Webinar

Sundays - April 1, 15, 22 and 29, 2012
9:30-11:30 a.m. MST (all sessions recorded)

The course will be divided into 4 classes, each representing an aspect of the elemental kingdom—fire, air, water and earth—in that order.

Fire. We will begin with a general discussion of Permaculture with quotes from the Hierarchs of the Elementals, emphasizing the element of fire with practical examples of how the fire of the sun can be captured to support a splendid garden in a harsh environment.

Air. Aries and Thor, as hierarchs of the air element, will give us a deeper understanding of the role of the sylphs and the constant work that they do for the planet. Nature is holistic/non-linear and truly a work of love, which we will explore. We will study systems in nature, such as the heart, to learn more about their self-organization, embracing a full spectrum of stimuli and responding to the most subtle vibrations.

It's blue bell season in south western England and the woods are just glorious! Carpets of blue and green, as if nature was wearing her prettiest dress. Exploring this environment is new to me as I grew up in Africa, and it feels magical. I often feel like I might bump into Merlin or a gnome around the next corner. I don't see elementals but I feel their presence in all the abundant life force in the trees, animals and plants. The forest is a nurturing place for me, I feel whole and well and it seems easy to be present and available to the now. Conversely the city makes me disconnect. I don't know how to face all that concrete and stay centered.

I thank God for the privilege of a country home!

First, select which microphone to use. If your drop-down menu shows more than one choice, you will most likely have one option for your built-in computer microphone and one for your headset microphone. On the example shown in this image, the Realtek High Definition Audio is the built-in microphone and USB Audio Device is the headset microphone. Therefore, this person would highlight the USB Audio Device option. Then click "Next."
